If you are due me anything for tinwork or stoves, please pay at once as promises will not buy building material. Very truly yours, R. B. SLAVEN.

Though it be war times volunteers are not much in evidence on Marlinton streets. There are enough bonneteers, however, to make affairs more than interesting for those with eyes for the beautiful.

Richard Stipes, the father of Peyton Stipes, who shot and killed B. W. Halterman, committed suicide last week by hanging himself. He has had a great deal of trouble and he lately decided to go and be no more.

The spruce drive for the paper company passed Marlinton last Thursday with their logs, making fine time. Smith & Whiting got their big drive out into the river Monday and still found plenty of water.

Pocahontas Council No. 15, Order United Americrn Mechanics was instituted last Monday night by Deputy Grand Counsellor, W. O. Thompson of Ronceverte. Sixteen members were initiated into the mysteries.

The infant children of B. C. Hill, deceased, have been adopted as follows: Fenton, Harry Harper, Loyd, C. W. Beard; Mary, Ellis McCarty. All have found excellent homes. The State Humane Society took the iniative in this work of mercy.

The snow of last week was a record breaker. Fifty years from now the old men will tell marvelous tales about a two-foot snow at Easter, and how it drifted over the tops of telephone poles, and say that the winters are not so bad as they used to be.

The publication of a new Masonic Journal is announced to be conducted by Dr J. H. Weymouth and son Lee, Elkins, W. Va. The first issue is looked for early in May, and, being the only periodical of its kind in West Virginia, will doubtless have the patronage of the brethren of the Mystic Tie.

Speaking of wall paper there is a remarkable instance in that on the walls of the parlor of Beverly Manor, a magnificent property near Staunton. That wallpaper was put on in 1796 and is in perfect condition. It has on it large pictures of old ships and other scenes.

Maj. J. T. Byrd, of Williamsville, Va. attended the Pocahontas Circuit Court last week, and from Marlinton passed on to Renick in Greenbrier. He is before the people as candidate for nomination to the Virginia Convention for the Highland, Bath and Alleghany district.

Clarence McClintic, formerly of Greenbank, now of Valley Bend, had his hand badly mutilated by the edger on Bradshaw's sawmill Saturday evening, March 30th. The surgeon removed all the fingers but the thumb and little finger and there is but little hope for these.

Thomas Swinburn, of Charleston, was in Marlinton last week as an agent of the West Virginia Humane Society. He has not been here since he rode with Averill in the sixties. At Marlinton he camped where the Times office stands now. He was wounded at the battle of Droop Mountain just as he was entering the breast works. His wound was considered fatal, but he recovered. He was an inmate of the hospital established in the house Geo. W. Callison now owns and occupies. He was struck by the fact that the wall paper on one of the rooms still remained as fresh looking as when he was here in 1863.

We are glad to see that some of our merchants are beginning to decorate their show windows. We have some handsome stores here and a little work would make some fine windows. The Cooper Millenery has one of the prettiest draped windows we have noticed.

On Monday, April 1st, the Clover Creek Cattle Company was chartered for doing a general live stock business and for buying, leasing, owing and selling real estate in Pocahontas County, incident to said business and a general horticultural and timber business, operating principally in Edray district. Office in Charleston, No. 307 Virginia Street. Capital, $24,000; shares, $100; subscribed, $24,000; paid in, $1200; incorporators, R. L. Telford, Lewisburg, C. B., S. A., R. T., and G S. Couch, of Charleston, W. Va.

It remains to be seen whether in all this town better quality or prettier patterns can be found than in my spring line of wash fabrics. I am offering for 12½c a nice line of silk c. It has the appearance of the 25c goods and it washes well. We are having a good deal of weather and it is rather forcing the season to talk about dimities, organdies and schales. My line is well selected from one of the largest dress goods houses in New York at the lowest possible prices. If I give you carpet for 25c a yard that other dealers ask 35c for, how much will you save? 10c on one yard or $3 on 30 yds. It is a nice ingrain carpet and the pattern is the newest from the loom. It is pretty hard scratching to hold my old trade and get some new business. I am going to give you the benefit of my profits in a few lines. Good Standard Victor R Oats 5 packages for 20c. Standard granulated sugar 6c, timothy seed $2 75 bu, clover seed $7.75 bu, 224 lb bags salt $1.35, nails 3½c, by the keg 3½c, baskets 3 for 25c. Ladies' shirt waists 25c. Ladies' silk waist $2 49.—The Golden store.

A DOUBLE WELCOME.

Low Prices and High Qualities always meet you at our door.—The Pocahontas Bargain House.

Edray.

"Here is my Board, Capt."

On the 12th of November, 1849, the Second Assistant Postmaster General issued a letter of appointment and sent it by mail to Huntersville, in care of Edgar Campbell postmaster at Huntersville, appointing Robert Moore postmaster at Edray. The letter of appointment was received and Robert Moore took and subscribed the oath of office on the 4th day of December, 1849 (a copy of which I have.) Prior to the establishment of the office the postmaster at Huntersville was instructed by the department to go over the route from Huntersville to Huttonsville and locate and name the offices on the route. In doing this work he came to Robert Moore's and conferred with him as to a name for this office. After several names had been suggested and rejected because of similar names, Mrs Eliza Moore suggested "Edrei," (a Bible name.) Mr Campbell said that would be all right when we change the ei to ay and call it Edray. Capt. Allen had nothing to do whatever with naming the postoffice. He is entered in the Census of 1850 as a peddler. Had he been keeping store in the building, as stated by the Captain, he would have been so entered in the Census list. I have looked up the records as to dates and make my statements from them. Edray was the first postoffice west of Greenbrier River in Pocahontas County, so I think (This from memory.) In the interest of correct history, I am yours truly,

GEO. P. MOORE.

David's Mother.

In response to the Clover Creek correspondent's Bible question, "What was the name of David's mother?" I beg leave to submit this answer: Let it be remembered that the sex of a person, according to Bible usage, is not necessarily determined by the name itself. For instance, Noah is the name of the person who built the ark, and is also the name of one of the five sisters mentioned in Numbers xxvi 33, and in Joshua xvii, 3. In Joshua this statement is made: "But Zeliophehad had no sons but daughters whose names were Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Tizra. Bearing this in mind, that a name does not necessarily determine sex, notice Second Samuel, xvii, 25, where Amasa is said to be the son of "Ithra, "by Abigail, daughter of Nahash, sister to Zernioh"—Jacob's mother. In First Chronicles, ii, 13-17, we learn that David was the son of Jessie each had two sisters, who were the same, Zeruioh and Abigail. All this has suggested three conjectures. First, that Nahash and Jessie are names applied to one and the same persons; secondly, that David's mother was first married to Nahash, King of the Ammonites and had the two girls, Abigail and Zeruiah, and afterwards became the wife of Jessie and had the sexen sons; thirdly, Nahash was not one of Jersie's names, nor the name of a former husband of David's mother, but the name of David's mother herself. Now as the name does not necessarily fix the sex, I rest in the opinion that the name of David's mother was Nahash. Nahash does not have a very romantic significance, meaning a serpent, still it may be that in the esteem of her parents who named her, she was wise in disposition, lithe and graceful in her personality. Solomon, her grandson, was the wisest man. Absolem, another, one of the most graceful and insinuating of men. Joab, still another, one of the most cunning and tricky of men. SENEX.

DIED.

Mrs R. L. Nottingham.

At Dunmore, W. Va., March 26, at 7 a. m., Mrs Bertie H. Nottingham, wife of R. L. Nottingham, fell asleep. Her death came as a release from a long and wearisome illness. On the following day her funeral was conducted by Rev H. W. McLaughlin, in the Presbyterian church, in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing friends. She was a daughter of the late Stephen and Laura Lockridge of Highland Co., Va. On May 27, 1890, she became the bride of R. L. Nottingham, of Pocahontas Co. At the time of her death she was thirty-four years of age. She leaves a husband, five little children and many relatives and friends to mourn her loss. In early womanhood she connected herself with the Presbyterian church at McDowell, Va., and not many months ago she moved her membership to Baxter church at Dunmore. She was a kind neighbor, faithful friend, careful mother and loyal wife. Her dying request was that her pastor thank the friends and neighbors for the many kindnesses shown her and her family during her sickness. She expressed herself as ready and willing to die, and as the end drew near she fervently prayed that God would take her to Himself. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family. M.

On, March 26, 1901 at Greenbank, W. Va, Charles Brooks, infant son of Dr and Mrs L. L. Little, was taken. Brooks was a bright and interesting baby and if he had lived till April 1st, he would have have been nine months old. God lent the little child for a while to brighten and gladden a home and then took him to keep for us as a treasure where moth and rust doth not corrupt and where thieves do not break through and steal. We cannot recall the babe to us, but we may go to him. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of the entire community.

BUCKEYE.

This leaves us with lots of mud and plenty of water.

Some sickness in this part.

Clark Kellison had the misfortune to catch the smallpox somewhere, but is getting along as well as could be expected.

Dr Wm. Burkhart of Lobelia was in this part a few days ago selling medicine. He says to buy a box and keep it on a shelf in the house, and the result will be no sickness there.

H. S. Galford is taking care of H. H. McClintic's property since his death.

Jasper Auldridge is having some lumber sawed on his farm by a Mr Young from Virginia.

Ernest Weiford has the sympathy of this community in his sad bereavement.

Willis McKeever is on the sick list.

M. J. McNeel was here on business recently.

Al Canada and Jack Eckley are stopping at Mr Auldridge's now.

W. McClintic had the misfortune to lose another horse.

McNeil & Duncan are doing a great business in the dry goods line at Buckeye.

Wm Gilmer expects to dig his potatoes and go to Webster soon.

Levi Gay was here on business recently.

P. McLaughlin and C. Corbett of Browns creek were in this part a few days ago on business.

The Sunday schools at this place are progressing nicely.

Ed Ray has moved to McClintic's mill. Ed is a hustler.

Elbert Perkins of Caldwell is visiting relatives here at present. He may locate in town.

Marcellus Dorman is running McClintic's mill now.

Pad Gay and Walter Mann were here horse trading recently.

ROVER.

DUNMORE.

There is so much mud and bad roads that old Mr Pooh and his groundhog did not get out to catch the news. Old Mrs Pooh also keeps close and our little Poohs are working on the roads and bridges.

Mrs T. P. Moyer returned from Baltimore last week where she purchased a car load of ladies' hats.

The river has been up for several days so that we cannot get to the depot at Forrest and the depot is full of goods. Oh! we need the bridge for the cattle.

L. Hankins and lady and Mr Butler were in town Sunday.

Mrs S. C. Pritchard, Mrs C. B. Swecker and Mrs N J. Rock are on the sick list. There is a great deal of sickness and death among the children.

We have several cases of Cuban scab and the war still goes on.

The silver tongued auctioneer will make a big sale at Marlinton April 15th, at Arbovale April 27th, and near Dunmore May 3rd.

Lots will be for sale at Forrest very soon.

Bad weather delayed surveying.

Work has begun again on the dam site at Cass. — MR POOH.

CASS.

Good morning, Mr Editor.

Fine morning in Cheat. Snow is about off.

The camp is on Cheat River at the old Mccutchen hacking which was hacked about 80 years ago by Robert Mccutchen, father of the late John McCutchen.

Cheat is timbered mostly with spruce; some cherry and other hard woods except oak. Spruce is plentiful here for miles around. Some places will yield 75,000ft. to the acre.

There are plenty of trout in the river. It is about five mile to the head.

Hunter has a full crew of 70 men, and is putting more men to work.

Monroe Philips is pushing the railroad on up the river.

(Camp 2) WOODSMAN.

BRUFFEYS CREEK.

Good morning, Mr Editor, still it snows and sugar making is in full blast.

Mrs Grimes is on the sick list.

J. W. Boblett says it's too cold to work.

Miss Mary McMillion is some better.

The dance at Cas McCoy's was largely attended on Monday night.

G. A. Hull still climbs the mountain.

Miss Laura Hodges has returned home. We are glad to see her back again.

T. A. Bruffey will start to Conference Monday.

G. P. Shisler and J. B. Grimes are off to court.

Bryan Hill has one eye turned towards Hills Creek.

RYE STRAW.

L. MAKOWICZ
Merchant-Tailor
Ronceverte, W. Va.

Will be in Marlinton and vicinity every 60 days with a full line of Foreign and Domestic piece goods, Fancy Vestings and Trouserings usually carried by first class tailors. He is also prepared to do repairing, pressing and dyeing on short notice. All work guaranteed.

FOR SALE.

150 Acres of Timber Land on the east branch of Greenbrier River. It is part of the Oscar Slaven farm. Address, A. E. PAYNE, Chino, San Bernardino County, California.

MILLPOINT.

Hello, Mr Editor, how are you coming up? Everything is on the boom in these parts. The long looked for wave of prosperity has struck us at last.

John B. Silva has constructed two large booms across Stamping Creek and we think every working man in these parts is laying off waiting for a tide to help Silva on his drive.

Cahill's elephant has been visiting some af the corn cribs in this vicinity.

Miss Anna Wallace has closed a very interesting and instructive school at Marvin. Miss Anna is one among our best teachers and the people of the community hope to have her teach their next school.

We were sorry to see in your paper that Wm. L. King is thinking of returning to his old home in Italy, as he will be greatly missed in his community.

S. W. Gladwell has sold his Possum Hollow property and will soon move to Seebert.

C. B. Grimes still sings and rocks the cradle.

Wonder what has become of Jeff Davis. Someone said he had gone to some of the sister counties where he could be governed by the masses instead of the classes and have an open saloon on every crossing. Go, Jeff, and seek your level.

For large fresh eggs for setting purposes call on Mrs Minnie Ruckman.

Mrs Lucy Nottingham has the contract of furnishing Charles O. X. McCrae's camp with butter.

R. B. Silva has moved to Geo. S. McNeel's place on Stamping Creek and we understand is going to buck swamp for Charles O. X. McCrae.

W. E. Overholt still holds the mule down but is mourning the loss of his whiskers.

With the assistance of J. H. Rose as slide manager, John A. Waugh has nearly completed his timber job.

S. A. Auldridge has given up his trip to college and we understand is now taking music lessons.

J. R. Ruckman not content with enlarging his poultry house has now conceived the brilliant idea of building a new house inside the old one in order to save the roof on the old one. Who but Jim would have thought of such a thing. So if you hear a thud in this direction do not be alarmed; it will only be the roof of Jim's old house falling on the new when the props are knocked out.

J. L. Auldridge still skids rocks and builds stone fence.

Swecker blowed his horn at Millpoint Friday. How far he was heard we cannot say but a dulness has seized the town since he left.

The spelling bee at the close of Miss Anna Wallace's school was enjoyed by all present. Some of the patrons took an active part in the spelling.

The Epworth League at Marvin chapel is progressing nicely. The subject, Forgiveness, at our meeting was ably discussed by Edward Layne anb M. F. Ruckman. Miss Lillie Smith, organist and vice-president deserves great credit for the able manner in which she fulfils her duties.

BENJAMINE FRANKLIN.

GLADE HILL.

And it snowed one day.

Most all of our citizens attended court last Tuesday and Wednesday.

Wash Hoover says he is going to make his fortune this coming summer. We wish him much success and have no doubt but what he will succeed.

Martin C. Dilley left last Monday for Elkins where he will be examined by doctors of that place in behalf of his pension.

The people will meet at Wesley chapel next Sunday at 2 p. m. for the purpose of organizing a Sunday School. For a number of seasons there has been a very interesting Sunday School carried on at that place.

Homer C. Hoover is working for Frank Patterson: he says that although he lost the prize yet he is going to fill his contract. That's right, stay with your bargain.

We are sorry to learn of the critical condition of Harry Rider. Harry is known to be a good boy and deserves something better than death.

Uncle Jake from Frost was up at the Dunmore mill one day last week.

Some people are undoubtedly very much interested in Walter Arbogast and his shoemaker trade. Their subject is getting stale: give it a rest.

Several of the youngsters near this place attended the wedding at Edray last week and report a good time.

Tim Nolan, Stonewall Jackson and others are home from the drive.

James Gum, of Highland, Va., is overseeing E. N. Moore's Glade Hill farm.

Chris Dilley of this place has traveled the road between here and Frost so often that he is known by all the domestic animals along the route.

Mrs Pooh, I say you don't treat poor Mr Pooh right at all, He takes more interest in the roads in this district than any other man. No doubt you know several times he has taken a horse, a plow and a shovel and fixed the worst places in the road between Dunmore and Greenbank at no little expense and where did this expense come from? Out of Mr Pooh's own pocket. Yes, Mr Pooh, just keep on blowing your horn; you are blowing it in a good cause and at last you will get a little aid. MISS POOH.

GREENBANK.

Good morning, Mr Editor, fine morning April 1st, a little cool.

Mrs J. P. Mooman is on the sick list but we are glad to note she is improving.

Earl Streacir has been very sick but is better.

The grog shop on Leatherbark had to close because a warrant was out. We hope it will stay closed forever and a day.

The mumps and grippe are bad when they go on a fellow at the same time.

There is some talk of Greenbank getting a tin shop. We hope we may be successful in securing it, as it is badly needed here.

Dr L. L. Little has rented the Davis property in town and will move into it this week. We are glad to see him stay here.

A. K. Dysard will move to Arbovale soon as his house is completed. We are sorry to lose him.

Dr L. H. Mooman will soon occupy the Yeager property; we welcome him and his wife to our town.

The town of Greenbank is on a boom and we hope in the near future to get a railroad through this rich valley.

It's a shame to call the whiskey shop a "pig's ear" for the pig would not be guilty of drinking the stuff. Why don't Durbin stop the drink shops within her town as was reported some time ago? Why echoes why.

The sad news of the death of Mrs R. L. Nottingham, of Dunmore, was 'phoned up here last Thursday. We offer heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family and friends in this dispensation of sore bereavement.

MRS POOH.

LOBELIA.

It snoweth, the wind bloweth, the sun shineth, but still the roads are muddy.

Colbert Kennison was on this side of the mountain a few days ago selling fertilizer.

Cas McCoy had a chopping a few days ago after which they had an old time foot shaking all night. Some of the boys called at Bro McClure's Tuesday morning about chicken crowing time.

Miss Laura Hodges is at home now. She has been gone about a year.

We see men traveling toward the Richwoods on the hunt of work.

This old town is now on a boom: another church in sight.

W. W. Kennison is painting for Rev Clark at Loveridge.

Died:—Infant child of Mr and Mrs Clayborne Kennison on last Tuesday.

WHERE IS THE BEST PLACE TO BUY CLOTHING, HATS, SHOES, &c.,

TEN WILL SAY

"The Pocahontas Bargain House."

(The Other Two Have n't Tried Us Yet.)

Our Line of Clothing, Hats, and Shoes, Can't be matched in this County. From the cheapest to the finest. Come in and see what a suit of clothes you can buy here for $3.98 and $5.50.

As I have worked about five years as a tailor in Baltimore, Philadelphia, and New York on high class work, I know just exactly how a suit of clothes has to be made up, and I know the exact value of it, and by knowing the exact value of it I buy my clothing cheaper than any other merchant in the county. It is common sense; for instance: a man can't come to you to-day and ask you seventy-five cents a bush. for corn if you know it is only worth 60c. The clothing manufacturers can't sell me any clothing for more than it is worth, as I know the price of the goods, and the price of the lining, trimmings, and the cost to make that suit. Therefore we can and do guarantee you a saving of 20 to 40 per cent on our clothing. To prove this statement we ask you to favor us with a visit and we will convince you.

We sell you a hat for 98c that you can't buy elsewhere for $1.50. Hundreds of styles; mountains of them in stock.

Our line of shoes is immense, and we can fit you in style, quality, and price. All we ask is if you want to do justice to yourself do not buy elsewhere before you have seen our goods and got our prices.

Thanking you for past patronage, and assuring you we are anxious for your trade, we remain,

VERY RESPECTFULLY,

J. H. FRY & SON,
Ronceverte, W. Va.

Editor Pocahontas Times:

In the the Greenbank items of March 28 in your paper was the question, "What King was it that Samuel hewed to pieces in Gilgal and where in the Bible is it found?" It was Agag, and is recorded in the latter part of the 33rd verse of the 15th chapter of First Samuel.
